Supporting Quotes

- Quote, attributed to Prabhav Kodial, Director – ESM & Software Solutions, Enhanced Software Solutions
“ESS has added a key strategic partner with Entuity. Eye of the Storm will be a vital element in our BSM offerings, especially because of its ability to integrate into the BMC applications we already provide to our customers. EYE will equip IT organizations with an accurate, affordable way to understand how the performance of its IT infrastructure affects their business, which is critical for a successfully managed BSM environment.”
- Quote, attributed to Peter Licursi, Vice President Global Sales, Entuity
“Through our new partnership with ESS, enterprises in India and Singapore will now have an effective way to proactively manage their network for improved service delivery. ESS customers will gain the ability to enhance their BSM performance, develop green IT savings programs, and maximize their IT resources. Entuity is looking forward to a rewarding relationship with ESS one where we will mutually provide companies a tangible way to increase their IT infrastructure ROI.”
